Your Interview

Most people get nervous at the thought of a performance and interviews can be like a performance, so you are not alone. However with Planning, Preparation and Practice you can turn your interview into an advantage.

Always confirm the details of your interview over the phone:

- Who will be conducting the interview and their position within the company
- The position you are being interviewed for (you may have applied for more than one position).
- Making sure you know where and when.
- Obtaining a name or phone number to contact in case of a problem on the day.
